1 ASSUMPTIONS

What I decided for you — override anything here

 Round cake tin, about 26-28 cm
No tin size given. Assumed a standard 26-28 cm round tin; a smaller tin needs 5-10 extra minutes.

 "Top+bottom" is Conventional Cooking AEG BE3002420M's dial has no numbered programs. "Top+bottom" maps to its Conventional Cooking symbol, not True Fan Cooking.

 Batter sugar set to 150 g User override below the 200-220 g range, for a less sweet cake. Prefer the original range: use 210 g.

 Nutmeg and extra cinnamon folded into apples Recipe text lists nutmeg but never places it in a step. Folded both into the apple layer before topping, per the user's own "start at 1/4 tsp" note.

 Butter melted in the microwave Fastest unattended option and frees the mixer bowl. Prefer stovetop: melt in a small pot on low heat instead.

 Kenwood mixer whisk, not hand whisk
Recipe says heavy whisking isn't needed; the mixer at low speed does it hands-free while apples get sliced.

INGREDIENTS

plain flour

440 g batter

eggs

4 batter

white sugar

150 g batter

white sugar

10 g topping

butter

200 g melted

milk

300 ml batter

baking powder

20 g Rimi brand

vanilla sugar

8 g 1 Dr. Oetker packet

apples

1.65 kg weighed before peeling

ground cinnamon

5 g folded into apples

ground cinnamon

3 g topping

	ground nutmeg	1 g	1/4 tsp, folded in fine salt	3 g	batter

3 STEPS

1 Preheat the oven

180 C

15 min

Turn the function dial to the Conventional Cooking symbol and set 180 C, with the wire shelf in the middle position. Let it heat while the batter and apples come together.

☑ Oven holding steady at 180 C.

AEG oven

2 Melt the butter

2-3 min

cool slightly

butter

200 g

Melt the butter in the microwave in 30-second bursts, stirring between each, until fully liquid. Set aside to cool slightly so it doesn't cook the eggs.

☑ Butter fully melted, no solid lumps left.

3 g

vanilla sugar

8 g

Whisk the eggs with the sugar, salt and vanilla sugar in the 5L bowl until just combined and a little frothy. Heavy aeration isn't needed here.

☑ Mixture pale yellow, sugar no longer gritty.

Kenwood mixer

Whisk

Add butter and milk

speed 1

2 min

butter

200 g

milk

300 ml

With the mixer running on low, pour in the melted butter and milk and mix until the batter is smooth. It stays thin at this stage.

- ☑ Batter smooth and pourable, no streaks of butter.

Whisk

5

Weigh and fold in flour

speed 1

6 min

plain flour

440 g

baking powder

20 g

Weigh the flour and baking powder directly into the bowl on the mixer's integrated scale, then mix on low just until combined. The batter should be thick but still pour, like very dense sour cream.

- ☑ Batter thick, drips slowly off the whisk.

Kenwood mixer

6

Grease tin, pour batter

3 min

Grease the cake tin with butter and pour in all of the batter, spreading it level. This is the entire batter, none is held back.

- ☑ Batter fills the tin in an even layer.

7

Peel and slice apples

3-5 mm

12 min

apples

1.65 kg

Peel the apples if you like, press each through the slicer to core and wedge it, then cut the wedges across into thin 3-5 mm slices. Peeling is optional; thickness is not.

- ☑ All apples cored and sliced thin.

Apple slicer

8 Toss and layer apples

thick, dense

5 min

apples

1.65 kg

ground cinnamon

5 g

ground nutmeg

1 g

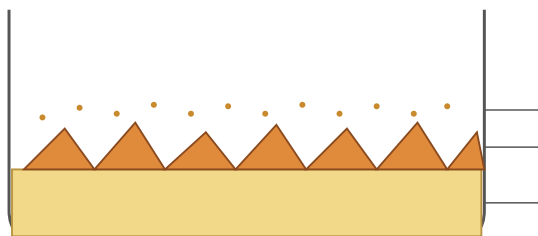

Toss the apple slices with the cinnamon and nutmeg, then spread them in a thick, dense layer over the batter without stirring the two together. Press lightly, but don't push the apples under.

✓ Apples cover the batter in a thick, even layer.

Kitchen scale

Cake tin cross-section

- 1 Batter — poured level, entire batch
- 2 Apples — thick, dense layer, not stirred in
- 3 Sugar + cinnamon — dusted on top

9 Sprinkle sugar and cinnamon

1 min

white sugar

10 g

ground cinnamon

3 g

Scatter the sugar and cinnamon evenly over the top of the apples before baking.

✓ Apple layer lightly dusted, no bare patches.

10 Bake the cake

180 C

40-50 min

Bake at 180 C until the batter has set and the top of the apples is golden. Give it closer to 55 minutes if the apple layer is on the heavier side.

✓ Skewer through the batter comes out clean.

AEG oven

11

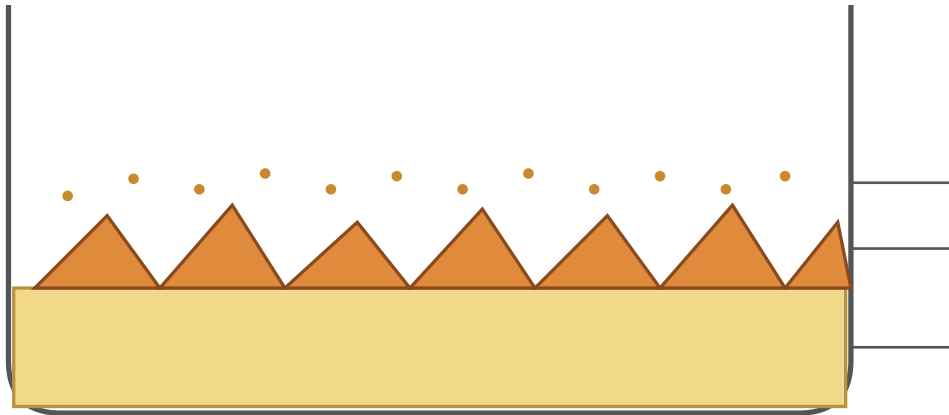

Rest, then serve

⌚ 10 min

Let the cake rest in the tin for 10 minutes before turning out or slicing. It firms up as it cools, and slices cleaner.

☑ Cake pulls cleanly from the sides of the tin.

Cake tin cross-section

- 1 Batter — poured level, entire batch
- 2 Apples — thick, dense layer, not stirred in
- 3 Sugar + cinnamon — dusted on top

Batter first, apple wedges pressed lightly on top, sugar and cinnamon last.
